Web Pages & Purpose

Background Page – This is the first page of the website and contains an introduction and an image.

Professional Page – This page is used to present my professional experience, vision and mission statement along with information regarding my future career.

Personality Page – This page showcases my strongest traits and hobby, explaining how they influence my academic and personal life. It also includes information on my hero as well as my views on a personality test that was taken.

Personal Development Page – This page depicts my thoughts on the chapters read from the book "Twelve Pillars" by Jim Rohn and Chris Widener. It also includes my degree and the skills I've acquired.

Storyboard Page – Shows the blueprint of the website.

Reference Page – Lists the websites, books or any other research material utilized in the website.

Theme

The theme of my website is based on the colors burgundy and grey, chosen to reflect a balance of professionalism, elegance, and creativity.

- Burgundy – This was used to portray ambition, strength, and determination, aligning with my commitment to growth and success in the field of computer science. It also brings warmth and depth to the overall design, making the content feel engaging and rich.
- Grey – This was used to represent neutrality, calmness, and balance. It complements the boldness of burgundy while creating a clean and modern look. Together, these colors create a visually appealing contrast that enhances readability and provides a sophisticated, professional feel to the website.

This website would be targeted at persons who are interested in learning about me on a personal and professional level.
